

White Elephant Exchange

Institutional Swag-Themed Event

Friday, Sept. 27, 9pm / Dow House

1. Participants bring a “container” with a singular or grouping of university/ college / organizational “swag” (not Schwag- see urban dictionary). Container can be wrapped in any fashion the participant feels is appropriate.
2. All swag is placed on a large table.
3. Each participant gets a number- these must be random and not in the order things were dropped off.
4. White Elephant begins.
  - The person with the lowest number goes first- picking one grouping of swag.
  - The next lowest number gets to choose- they can pick a different grouping of swag from the table or steal the first player’s “gift.” If their gift gets taken, the first player will choose something else from the table.
  - This continues until we get to the last number. Anyone who gets their gift stolen in this way can do the same – choose a new item or steal from someone else. There could be multiple steals and re-choosing from the table before we move forward in the numbers.
